New Hires and Promotions at Arment Dietrich

Arment Dietrich recently announced several new hires and promotions

Jennifer Thomas joins as a senior account executive, with experience in media relations, event management, and community relations for health care and consumer products clients. Before joining the Arment Dietrich team, Jennifer worked as an account manager for Northlich, an integrated communications agency based in Cincinnati.

Olivia Flink-Larsen joins as an account executive, with expertise in event marketing, corporate communications, and media relations. Olivia previously worked as an account executive for Winger and Associates, Ltd.

Angela Loiacono has been promoted to account executive, advancing from assistant account executive. Her expertise is in media relations for clients in the business services, hospitality, lawn and garden, and consumer goods segments.

Arment Dietrich also offers a dynamic and rewarding internship program for recent graduates. This fall, two of the agency's summer interns, Christine Heim and Suzanne Bilek, now are full-time account coordinators.
